To whom it may concern
Open testimonial, David Buchanan.

David Buchanan has worked as LittlePod's development chef since we launched at Hampton Court in 2010. I have found David's contribution to be exceptional. Beyond his undoubted culinary skills, which are of the highest quality, I find him to be extremely conscientious, trustworthy and obliging on all occasions. He is also very highly organised and unflappable.

As a consultant, he has made a very significant contribution to my company offering both advice and help with recipe and product development. In addition, and at very short notice he produced, for example, a five course fine-dining experience for over fifty guests, which was a huge success. Within this role, he always draws high praise from those working for him in the kitchen.

We have profiled David in various creative situations, for example, contributing to a cook book in aid of Oxfam and educational films for our website. David has also been directly involved with a very worthy charity called 'A Place 2 Be'.

I would unreservedly recommend David for any executive post or chef position and would be more than happy to provide further detail if so required.

Yours sincerely,

Janet Sawyer
